Nextcloud: From EFSS to CCP

Monday 28 January 2019 13:50 (20 minutes)

Nextcloud was started as a classic enterprise file sync and share solution. It's an 100% open source software that can be used for on-prem file sync and share services. But nowadays the enterprise file sync and share market is growing into the content collaboration platform market. Nextcloud is a leading solution in this area. This talk covers the latest innovations and discusses the interesting new features of the latest releases.
