

My name is Tomáš Herman and I am from Czech Republic. I study at the Czech Technical University in Prague, where I am currently doing master's degree in Experimental particle physics.

At CERN I have been working on the wire scanner with the PSB-OP group. After I leave I will finish my master's and continue with a PhD.

The experience of being a summer student is truly unique. Both because of all the people from all over the world you meet and also because you get to see how is it to work at CERN.
