

The presentation summarizes the LHC and Injector performance in terms of availability during Run 2. A detailed analysis of turnaround time, stable beams duration and system faults is provided. The concept of 'lost physics' is introduced, as well as a metric to define system complexity for availability estimates.