

Contribution ID: 306

Type: not specified

Highest Energy Cross Sections

Monday, 26 August 2019 11:20 (30 minutes)

The recent realization that highest energy p-p data can be simply explained in terms of a black disc with a constant 'edge' is elucidated. The application to nuclei has significant implications for the understanding of cosmic ray showers. Another interesting point concerns understanding the coefficient of the Froissart bound in the limit of zero pion mass.

Primary author: STODOLSKY, leo (Max-Planck-Inst. f. Physik)

Presenter: STODOLSKY, leo (Max-Planck-Inst. f. Physik)

Session Classification: Semi-plenary Session