Chiara Bianchin / Volkswagen Financial Services

Monday, 12 November 2018 18:05 (20 minutes)

Chiara is an ex member of the ALICE Collaboration, where she contributed to the measurements of hard probes (D mesons and jets).

She left CERN in 2016 and she started a new career as Data Scientist with a great help from the LHC Networking Events and the CERN Alumni. Since July 2018 she works at Volkswagen Financial Services in Germany, but her path towards a position in an established corporate such as Volkswagen was rich of unforeseen stumbling blocks, bad and good luck, unexpected changes. Come and discover more about her story: a career after CERN is definitely not less exciting than “A Journey of Discovery”!
