

Contribution ID: 83

Type: not specified

Ensuring the future of particle physics in a more sustainable world

As the European particle physics community engages in an updated strategy for the coming years, we present three recommendations that will ensure a more sustainable future for the field of particle physics in view of climate change. The text and recommendations are signed by 314 particle physicists, representing a diverse set of the community.

Primary authors: BOISVERT, Veronique (Royal Holloway, University of London); SPANO, Francesco (Royal Holloway, University of London (GB)); GHAG, Chamkaur (University College London); Prof. WATERS, David (UCL)

Track Classification: Other (communication, outreach, strategy process, technology transfer, individual contributions,...)