

Contribution ID: 45

Type: not specified

New namespace in production: An overview, and future plans

Monday 4 February 2019 10:20 (20 minutes)

The new EOS namespace implementation based on QuarkDB entered production during 2018 with full success. In this presentation, we report the current status and experience with running new-namespace instances in production, as well as some preliminary plans for deprecating the old namespace.

Primary author: BITZES, Georgios (CERN)

Presenter: BITZES, Georgios (CERN)

Session Classification: EOS Developement