

Displaced Event Classification Using Graph Networks

Objective

Use classification to identify promising events from raw detector hits, skipping track and vertex reconstruction

What

Investigate GNN performance in ATLAS-like Inner Detector across increasing process and task complexity

Conclusion

Promising indications. Next steps, consider training in pp environment, increase model capacity. After, run with realistic detector simulation.

