

Safety

An aerial photograph of a construction site is shown, overlaid with a semi-transparent orange rectangle. Inside the orange area, a technical drawing or site plan is visible, showing various rectangular plots and lines. The text "Safety is first priority." is centered in white on the orange background. In the top right corner of the orange area, there is a small black arrow pointing upwards. On the left side of the orange area, there is a small orange rectangle with the number "6179" inside it. The background image shows a mix of green grass and grey concrete or asphalt surfaces.

Safety is first priority.
