

Combined Higgs boson measurements at the ATLAS experiment

Thursday, 30 July 2020 12:24 (18 minutes)

The most precise measurements of Higgs boson cross sections, using the framework of simplified template cross sections, are obtained from a combination of the measurements performed in the different Higgs boson decay channels. This talk presents the combined measurements, as well as their interpretation.

I read the instructions

Secondary track (number)

Primary author: KLEIN, Matthew Henry (University of Michigan (US))

Presenter: KLEIN, Matthew Henry (University of Michigan (US))

Session Classification: Higgs Physics

Track Classification: 01. Higgs Physics