Code of Conduct

Conduct

SRR, Chapter 1, Section 3: Conduct

“Members of the personnel shall conduct themselves with due regard to the interests and proper functioning of the Organization.

Members of the personnel shall refrain from any act or activity:

- a) which is incompatible with their functions, or
- b) which would be morally or materially prejudicial to the Organization.

Members of the personnel shall exercise at all times the reserve and tact incumbent upon them by virtue of their international status...”

Code of Conduct

What does it address and to whom does it apply?

- ❖ Common standards of professional behaviour based on CERN values (vs. Code of Ethics)
- ❖ Guide in helping us, as CERN contributors, to understand how to conduct ourselves, treat others and expect to be treated.
- ❖ Applicable to all CERN contributors, i.e. not only staff members but also the user community, subcontractors, consultants...

What form does it have in practice?

- ❖ Short (4 pages) and intentionally so, organized around the five CERN values
- ❖ Extensive FAQ list available to increase understanding of how the Code applies to practical situations

It's about common basic standards of behavior to help us understand how to conduct ourselves, treat others and expect to be treated in accordance with the CERN values

- The Code of Conduct (original 1 July 2010, updated January 2017)

- Respect at CERN
- Supplementary information on the Code of Conduct: religious practices in the workplace (December 2017)

How the Code came about:

As part of the Human Resources Strategy and global reflection on CERN values and common standards of behavior and also in response to requests from various internal bodies, the Code of Conduct has been developed further to an extensive collaboration and consultation process during 2009 and 2010. CERN's first Code of Conduct is applicable from 1 July 2010.

What the Code is:

PROFESSIONALISM

PROVIDING A HIGH LEVEL OF SKILLS WITHIN RESOURCES AND THE CONSTRAINTS AND FOSTERING MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING

Our ability to deliver and to create a positive work environment permits us to achieve high professional standards, individually and collectively.

CREATIVITY

BEING AT THE FOREFRONT OF ONE'S PROFESSIONAL FIELD, FOSTERING INNOVATION AND ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

CERN encourages continuous learning and development and values innovation as well as a proactive approach to acquiring and sharing information.

DIVERSITY

APPRECIATING DIFFERENCES, FOSTERING EQUALITY AND PROMOTING COLLABORATION

CERN's excellence derives from an environment in which the knowledge and perspectives of a diverse workforce are valued and dialogue is encouraged at all levels.

AS CERN CONTRIBUTORS, WE

- Define clear and realistic objectives and deliverables for our activities, and communicate them to our colleagues.
- Ensure that the human, material and financial resources attributed to us are used optimally for the benefit of CERN.
- Invest in CERN's future by bringing long-term effectiveness into account when managing short and medium-term activities.
- Maintain a professional environment characterized by good working relations and an atmosphere of tolerance and mutual respect.
- Provide advice and guidance to colleagues, where appropriate, and advise adequate supervision and control capabilities that we delegate.
- Address conflict promptly and impartially.
- Abstain from and actively discourage all forms of harassment as well as verbal, non-verbal, written or physical abuse.

AS CERN CONTRIBUTORS, WE

- Foster developments within our domain.
- Use our professional experience in a constructive manner.
- Contribute to the evolution of CERN by committing to sharing our knowledge.
- Share with internal parties any information that could benefit them in their work, irrespective of their jobs and departments.
- Attend alternative outings in order to generate new thoughts and concepts.
- Conduct our work in a structured way to enhance knowledge transfer and continuity.

AS CERN CONTRIBUTORS, WE

- Respect and value differences.
- Promote inclusiveness in the workplace in terms of both personal characteristics and professional activities.
- Demonstrate teamwork and invest in team building.
- Treat others with tact, courtesy and respect.
- Abstain from and actively discourage discrimination in all forms.
- Avoid offering undue or unwarranted reasons, and be aware that statements or actions not intended to be offensive to another person may be perceived as such.
- Refrain from unjustified or disparaging remarks or actions, in particular on the basis of sex, age, religion, beliefs, nationality, culture, ethnicity, race, sexual orientation, status at CERN, disability, or family situation.

Respect @ CERN

CERN's values:

Integrity, commitment, professionalism, creativity and diversity.

Taken together, these values form the basis of respect for others, for the Organization and for its mission.

Watch the series of short videos, to showcase situations covering CERN's five values: <https://cern.ch/hr/cern-values>

It's an invitation for us all to reflect on the way our behaviour can impact our working environment and to think about how we can contribute to creating a respectful and inclusive working environment.

Social media guidelines

1. Post...

- Responsibly: your online content stays public and can be republished by others. Make sure you are comfortable with what you are posting before you put it online;
- Correctly: posts claiming to be news or information should be based on facts. Fact check the statements before posting and don't be fooled by the abundance of opinion-based "facts" on the web, when sharing or reposting;
- Clearly: try to avoid scientific jargon or slang when addressing a wide audience;
- Reasonably: show your passion, but avoid overposting;
- As yourself: be honest about your identity, expertise and role at CERN. Always point out that you post in your personal capacity, and your statements will remain personal and cannot be regarded as representing CERN's official position. If necessary, add an appropriate disclaimer.

2. Refer...

3. Respect...

- To content with links rather than copy-pasting content directly into a post. Information can then stay updated on the source website;
 - To external sources, products or services with caution as you may imply CERN endorsement;
 - To social-media@cern.ch if you have Social Media queries.
- CERN's rules, i.e. the CERN Code of Conduct, CERN C Regulations;
 - CERN's reputation: be aware that your actions can affect it;
 - CERN's logo: the use of the CERN logo is legally protected on personal social media sites;
 - Privacy: check privacy settings, limit personal details, respect off-line conversations. Posting personal identifiable information may raise safety and security concerns;
 - Confidential information: include only public information. Do not share information that is confidential and/or internal to CERN or that could have security or commercial implications;
 - Intellectual property: copyrights, trademarks, NDAs, financial disclosure and false advertising. If you upload material, including photographs, you must ensure that you have the necessary rights to this material before uploading;
 - Differences in opinion: handle debates and criticisms constructively;
 - The well-being of others: avoid posting or encouraging offensive comments;
 - Official communications: you need to have proper authorisation from your Department Head, Experiment, or the CERN Communications group to speak officially on behalf of CERN;
 - A reasonable balance of social media activities with your work commitments (and your home life!).
