

Dear colleagues and friends from RD51,

After some hesitations, derived from the present global health alert, we are proud to announce that the next RD51 collaboration meeting will be finally organized by Instituto Galego de Física de Altas Enerxías (IGFAE), at Santiago de Compostela, from the 5th to the 9th of October, 2020. The meeting will be fully virtual and fee-free, although registration is enforced. Without detriment to that, the possibility of on-site attendance will be re-assessed during late August/early September (if you already know that you might interested on this possibility please let us know at RD51CMSantiago@igfae.usc.es, or during the registration stage).

Following the tradition of non-CERN-based RD51 collaboration meetings, a satellite topical workshop is being organized (New Horizons for Time Projection Chambers), so that scientific activities will extend for an entire week, from Monday morning (5th) up to Friday afternoon (9th). More information can be found in the meeting website <https://indico.cern.ch/event/889369>.

Looking forward to seeing you in (or from) Santiago!

Santiago, 24-June-2020,

Diego Gonzalez Diaz

(Ramón y Cajal researcher and Chair of the meeting)
