

Moving ROOT Forward.

Thursday, 8 September 2011 15:15 (25 minutes)

Now that the LHC has started the LHC experiments crave for stability in ROOT, however progress in computing technology is not stopping and to keep ROOT up to date and compatible with new technologies requires a lot of work. In this presentation we will show what we are currently working on and what new technologies we try to exploit.

Primary author: RADEMAKERS, Fons (CERN)

Presenter: RADEMAKERS, Fons (CERN)

Session Classification: Thursday 08th - Computing Technology for Physics Research

Track Classification: Track 1: Computing Technology for Physics Research