

Lecturing and Thesis Supervision @ AIMS

Monday 30 November 2020 14:40 (20 minutes)

Prasenjit and Claire will give their perspectives on lecturing at AIMS and help you understand how you can be involved.

Claire David lectured at AIMS-Ghana in 2019 while she was a research fellow at the DESY laboratory in Hamburg, Germany. Since then, has mentored multiple AIMS alumni in their graduate applications. She is now a professor of physics at York University in Toronto, Canada.

Prasenjit Saha has lectured at multiple AIMS centers and supervised thesis projects starting in 2015 and is currently a researcher at the University of Zurich in astrophysics.

Presenters: DAVID, Claire (York University (CA)); Prof. SAHA, Prasenjit (University of Zurich)
