

ARISE - Career Accelerator for Research Infrastructure Scientists

Peer Bork ARISE Programme Director

The ARISE fellowship programme offers fellowships for experienced professionals with a background in science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) who wish to advance technology development in the life sciences and receive training to operate life science research infrastructures, which provide novel technologies as a service for life scientists.